Wine industry biosecurity workshop

Western Australia is fortunate to be free of many of the major plant pests and diseases that occur in other wine producing regions, however the introduction of a pest, disease or weed has the potential to threaten your business and the industry.

To improve knowledge of biosecurity principles and actions, a series of biosecurity workshops are being delivered by Wine Australia's Craig Elliott. The half day workshops are designed to provide a practical guide on why and how to prepare a biosecurity plan specific to your business.

Tuesday 17 or Wednesday 18 August 2021

9.00am – 1.00pm

Margaret River Education Campus

272 Bussell Hwy, Margaret River

Registration to yu-yi.liao@dpird.wa.gov.au with preferred day

This is a free workshop. Please include dietary requirements with your RSVP

This is a unique opportunity for producers and cellar door operators to access free one-on-one expert training and tools including complimentary property signage. Attendees are asked to bring an aerial image or map of their properties.
